As patients return for on-site services again, healthcare facilities are faced with the challenge of providing adequate physical distancing and infection control.

While protocols necessitate an increase in physical space per patient, many facilities face the reality of the confines of existing areas. Ensuring appropriate infection control and patient privacy in lobbies, waiting rooms, clinics, assessment centres, and registration areas is a huge new challenge.

SOLO is a simple solution to divide space in smaller areas. Affordable, robust and simple to use, it provides frontline workers with a vital tool to retain patient capacity in busy departments.
